Vancouver, British Columbia – April 7th, 2016 – Clean Seed Capital Group Ltd. (the “Company” or “CSC”) (TSXV: CSX), completes its CX-6 SMART Seeder™ launch event with a capacity crowd celebrating the commercialization of our award winning SMART Seeder™ technology. The launch event was held at our manufacturing partner WS Steel’s facility with an outdoor display of the first production CX-6 SMART Seeder off the assembly line slated for delivery to Rocky Mountain Equipment in the coming weeks.

The turnout for the event could not have been better. The SMART Seeder™ was surrounded by a large audience of passionate and excited attendee’s. Many groups were given a detailed tour of the facility and informed about the manufacturing process behind the SMART seeder™.

The audience was comprised of senior management and staff from the Clean Seed Group of Companies, Rocky Mountain Equipment and WS Steel, industry leaders, members of the farming community, the media, local city, provincial and federal government officials.

The weather turned to heavy snow but that did not hinder the event, in fact, Clean Seed believes it added to it. It was a clear sign that people from all over the country stood proudly in the cold to unite with us on our mission to commercialize the game changing SMART Seeder™ Technology.

Jim Wood, VP Agriculture – Rocky Mountain Equipment stated: “it was fantastic to see the first CX-6 SMART Seeder™ completed and set for the 2016 planting season. The team at RME is excited to put it in the hands of our producers and show all it has to offer”.

We would like to thank everyone who attended regardless of the sudden poor weather conditions. Your unwavering support is powerful motivation to all who dedicate themselves to our initiatives.

We would also like thank our manufacturing partners at WS Steel for assisting us in hosting this event in addition to the tireless effort and one of a kind dedication they provide in helping bring the SMART Seeder™ to market.
